CITRUS FROST INSURANCE IN JUNE?

PORTERVILLE, June 19 — Citrus growers are looking and talking — but so far not buying too much citrus frost insurance, according to Nelson Little, who heads the federal crop insurance operation in this district, however — selling frost insurance in the middle of a summer that has suddenly decided to act like summer is not the easiest job in the world.

Actually a number of growers have expressed an interest in the program that is now being offered for the first time in Tulare county, and about 20 policies have been applied for and cleared.

As outlined in last week's Farm Tribune, rates vary on a basis of the amount of coverage per acre, on whether or not a grove has frost protection equipment, whether the specific grove is classed as warm, average or cold, and whether the variety is Navel or Valencia.

Full information can be obtained from the insurance agencies: S. H. McLemore, and Behrens & Kramme in Porterville; Tisdell & Kelley in Visalia, and at the federal crop insurance office, room 2, (Continued On Page 8)

Growers Vote Tomorrow On Wheat Program

VISALIA, June 19 — Wheat growers of Tulare county — and of the nation — go to the polls tomorrow to decide whether or not marketing quotas and the price support program will be continued for the 1959 crop.

Polling places in Tulare county are: Ducor Elementary school for the Ducor area; Tea Pot Dome cafe for the Porterville area; ASC office, 201 Acequia street in Visalia, for the Visalia area. Polls will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Two thirds of those growers who vote must favor the program in order to keep it in operation.

GIRLS WILL MODEL COTTON DRESSES AS NEW FEATURE OF ANNUAL CALCOT MEETING, TUESDAY, AT MOONEY GROVE

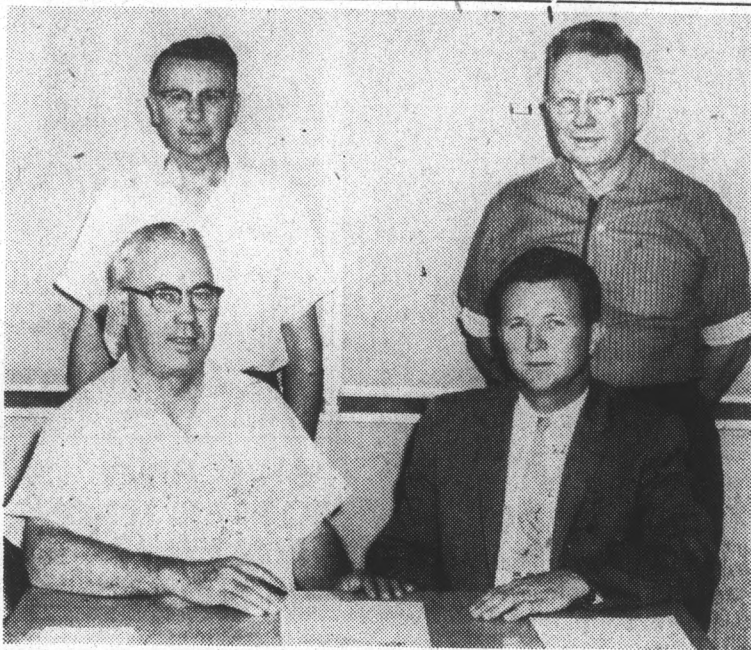

PORTERVILLE, June 19 — Winners of the annual Tulare county cotton dress contest that is held as a pre-fair event in Porterville will model their dresses as a feature of the program at annual meeting and barbecue that will be given by the Calcot organization at Mooney Grove next Tuesday.

The contest this year was sponsored by the Tule River Cooperative gins and the San Joaquin Cotton Oil company; 4-H girls and home economics girls in county high schools competed in Porterville prior to the 1958 fair, exhibiting and modeling dresses of cotton material that they had made themselves; winners were presented each evening during the stage show at the Porterville fair.

Arranging the modeling program for the Calcot meeting is Roscoe Honeycutt, manager of the Tule River Co-op. gin.

During the social time and business session at the Calcot meeting Tuesday, results of director election will be announced; a barbecue will be served at noon; an entertainment program will be presented and special displays will show various aspects of the cotton industry.

The meeting will be attended by cotton growers and their families

Future Farmers Show Good Returns On Porterville Fair Steers; Cost Of Gains Run 16-38 Cents A Pound

PORTERVILLE, June 19 — Members of the Porterville High School chapter of Future Farmers of America showed good labor returns on steers they fed to exhibit at the annual Porterville Junior Livestock Show and Fair last month.

R. L. Hooper, chairman of the vocational agriculture department, said 11 exhibitors had a total labor income of $1,293.16 from their projects, or $117.56 each. Gary Giraudi, with $171.69, and Richard Mead, with $170, were high.

Mead, whose steer was on feed for 260 days, showed a total net gain of 510 pounds and a cost per 100 pounds of gain of only $16. Top cost per gain among the projects was $38.30 per hundred, Hooper reported, but the steer fed by Alvin Ramirez brought 42 cents per pound at the auction and gave $131.09 labor return. Lowest selling price among the 11 exhibitors was 35 cents.

Members with complete records for their steer projects, in addition to Giraudi, Mead, and Ramirez, were John Green, Jerry Fiorini, Jim Fiorini, Gordon Todd, Neal Cook, Carson Blevins, Lane Starr, Jim Ignatieff.

WELCOME HOME, CHARLEY

Yesterday we had the pleasure of talking to "City Manager Charles Cummings, who is now spending some time each day in his office at the city hall.

Charley is thin — as well he might be after surviving a critical illness and surgery from which there was for a time considerable doubt of his recovery, but he is "up and at 'em again", and we hope that he continues to improve.

Let there be those who might say that such words from us are hypocritical in view of our previous criticism of the operation of the office of Porterville city manager and purchasing agent, may we point out again that our editorial comments concerning public offices and public officials are not based on personality, but on methods, policies and procedures as related to the public job that the office or the individual is concerned with.

So while we have disagreed with Charley in the past, it has been an editorial disagreement involving matters of public administration — and, who knows, we may disagree again.

But from our personal standpoint, we mean it when we say it was a pleasure to talk to Charley yesterday; and we mean it when we say that we hope he continues to regain strength and health.

Our personal comment — Welcome home, Charley.

ALL AIR LANES WILL LEAD TO PORTERVILLE FOR 11th ANNUAL MOONLIGHT FLIGHT

PORTERVILLE, June 19 — All air lanes will lead to Porterville the weekend of June 28-29, as the Porterville Area Pilots' association stages its 11th annual moonlight flight and fly-in — an event that last year made the Porterville airport the busiest field in America for a period of 23 hours.

A free aircraft show, featuring the latest in private planes, special displays, as well as experimental ships, is set for Saturday, June 28, from noon until 5 p.m., and all day Sunday.

An adult admission charge of $1.00; children 50 cents, will be made for Saturday evening entertainment, which will include an "all you can eat" supper and a moonlight dance at the Porterville airport.

Sunday show will feature pilot contests, flying demonstrations, sailing (sail planes and airplanes), parachute jump, military display and new aircraft display.

Kiddie rides will be operated at the airport during the two-day event; plane rides over Porterville will be sold during the days, and Saturday night.

Completing final arrangements now for the flight that will bring planes from throughout western states into Porterville are committees of the Porterville Area Pilots' association, the organization that (Continued On Page 8)

POWDER PUFF DERBY FLYER IS VISITOR

PORTERVILLE, June 19 — Checking their Cessna 172 for the annual July 4 Powder Puff Derby, Cleo D. Morrison and Florence Anderberg stopped at the Porterville airport Tuesday afternoon on a flight from southern California. Mrs. Morrison, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Edmund Cook of Success Valley, will be flying in her third Derby when she and Mrs. Anderberg take off from San Diego for their across-the-nation flight on July 4.

ROCKWELL BROCHURE NOT ONLY PUBLICIZES THE COMPANY, BUT ALSO GIVES PORTERVILLE A BOOST

PORTERVILLE, June 19 — A Rockwell Manufacturing company brochure that has just been mailed to "customers and friends" of the company on the west coast, is not only an excellent advertising piece for Rockwell, but it is also an excellent "chamber of commerce" piece for Porterville.

The two-color brochure, that deals entirely with the Porterville Rockwell plant, carries photographs of the exterior and interior of the building, with brief descriptions of operations at the plant, and services offered.

"NO ALARM" AS YET ON GRASSHOPPERS

PORTERVILLE, June 19 — There is no immediate cause for alarm in so far as the grasshopper situation is concerned locally, it was reported this morning by Charles Geoble, deputy agricultural commissioner in Porterville.

Geoble said that in the area adjacent to cultivated land, from Fountain Springs to Lewis Creek, there is as yet no serious infestation of hoppers.

He said that on Deer Creek there is a fairly active hatch in the wet, green area along the river, but he said it is doubtful that the hoppers will move out and migrate.

Generally, there are a few adult hoppers around — they are in evidence in Porterville yards and around lights in the business area at night, however, Geoble states that there are no more than usual for this season of the year and that there are not enough to cause alarm.

Farmers are still warned, however, to keep a close check on cultivated property adjacent to the foothill area, and if there is any indication of a build-up of hoppers, control measures should be taken immediately.

With a heavy hatch indicated this year, early warnings went out that a serious situation could develop in May, however, the hatch did not materialize.

Geoble says that he does not know what happened — perhaps (Continued On Page 8)

ALFALFA APHID LEVEL IS LOW TO DATE

By William R. Sallee
Farm Advisor

VISALIA, June 19 — The population levels of the spotted alfalfa aphid have been low in alfalfa hay fields so far in 1958. Natural enemies of this pest have been doing an excellent job of control. Fungus, parasites, and predators have been effective.

The number of lady bird beetles in alfalfa fields have been exceptionally high. The parasites that were released in the county last year are well established.

With the higher temperatures that will be coming along, the spotted alfalfa aphid populations could reach damaging numbers rapidly, however. Therefore, it is suggested that growers keep an eye on the alfalfa field for unexpected build up of this insect. It is important to learn how to foster natural controls. This information is in the new "1958 Spray Program For Alfalfa Hay." If we can be of any help, give the office a call.

She also established a considerable reputation as a counselor and lecturer while a resident of the Southern California area.

HIGH SCHOOL, COLLEGE BUILDING PROGRAM MOVING AHEAD WITH BIDS ESTIMATED AT $200,000 TO BE OPENED

PORTERVILLE, June 19 — The building program of the Porterville Union High School and College district will be in full swing after some $200,000 worth of construction bids are opened at next Monday night's meeting of the board of trustees.

Ray Hutchinson, board chairman, said several bids are expected on the contracts to construct additional shower and locker room facilities for girls' physical education classes at the high school, and to build a shower and locker room at the college campus.

Work on these two projects is expected to start by mid-summer, Hutchinson said, with completion dates set for the first of the year.

Construction of the nine-room business department unit on the high school campus is 65% completed, according to the contractor, and probably will be ready for use by the start of school in September.

Bids for furniture for the new business instruction wing were opened at a board meeting Monday, and the nine firms competing offered estimates which are being screened by a committee that will report at the June 23rd meeting.

The board also has approved removal of one of the temporary classroom buildings from the high school to the college campus, where it will relieve some overcrowded classes. Hutchinson said the district's architect has been told to prepare estimates for remodeling the building so it can be moved as soon as possible. The trustees have approved a location for the building near the multipurpose courts, and close to the science wing at the college.

In line with its policy of building new classrooms as soon as the special tax money becomes available, Hutchinson said the board plans to open bids on January 26, 1959, on from 10 to 15 new classrooms for the high school campus.

Contracts will be let as soon as the special tax money installment becomes due the first of the year.

Even though the high school campus will gain nine classrooms with the completion of the business department wing, it still will be operating to capacity of rooms at the start of the fall term, Hutchinson said. Four classrooms will be lost with the moving of the temporary building. However, other classroom space may be gained by remodeling of the temporary building recently vacated by the school library.

Hutchinson said board members are pleased at low bids for construction and materials received recently. The business wing is being constructed at a cost of $10.21 per square foot, which is far below average. He said the district's planning for new construction is based on procedures for saving money which now are becoming nationally recognized. The use of a special plans screening committee of local builders has aided in reducing costs, Hutchinson stated.

Stanford Doctor Is Studying Amebic Dysentery

PORTERVILLE, June 19 — A research project on the subject of amebic dysentery is now being conducted by Dr. Quentin M. Geiman, professor of preventive medicine in the Stanford University school of medicine.

Dr. Geiman is working with public health officials in Tulare county, local doctors and the administration of the Porterville State hospital in an effort to determine the degree of illness among hospital patients and employees infected with the parasite that is responsible for the condition of amebiasis.

He will also study the diagnostic laboratory procedures at the Porterville State hospital, and in Tulare county, and attempt to isolate strains of the parasitic ameba for laboratory study.

The project is being conducted by Dr. Geiman in collaboration with Dr. Charles W. Folsom, Tulare County Public Health officer, Dr. James T. Sheldon, Porterville State hospital superintendent and medical director, and local physicians. The study is being financed through the State Department of public health with the sanction of the Stanford University school of medicine, the Tulare County Health department, and Porterville State hospital authorities.

A recent ad in the Wall Street Journal shows a man having an eye examination. The headline says: "Everyone has 20/20 Hindsight."

So it is with insurance. After a serious loss, any property owner can — and does — tell his friends the kinds of insurance which he should have carried.

But to know in advance what kinds to have — to carefully study the hazards and insurable risks you're exposed to — calls for a trained insurance counselor who can bring all the pertinent facts to bear on the problem.

More important, these facts must be evaluated and applied with skill and understanding. Facts go only so far — then judgment must take over.

Applying "20/20 Hindsight" to insurance problems in ADVANCE is our specialty! And this type of "vision" is available to YOU.

OUR TOWN

By Gardner (Bud) Wheeler

THE SCHOOLS OF OUR TOWN had no more let out, than they fired up the boiler and started all over again. This week several students enrolled for the pleasures of a recreational activity known as "summer school". Closer scrutiny has brought forth the fact that there are two types of schooling offered. One type is the remedial, to use the "schoolhouse" vernacular. This is designed for young scholars who don't believe in being overly hasty in matters of education. They believe in the leisurely approach that demands that the scholar does not fill his mind too rapidly with assorted items of learning. Unfortunately, this usually means that something has been left undone by the time school closes. Summer school offers an excellent chance to re-analyze the missing links in the educational process for these leisurely learners, although some feel that this is a condition of involuntary servitude.

ANOTHER EDUCATIONAL GOODY being served up by the schools this summer is the "enrichment" program. This features a voluntary condition of servitude, and the students are attending just because they want to. Feature of this menu are science and Spanish. The former is long on experiments, which naturally requires ingenuity and a raiding on the resources of various homes in the community. To date, we are missing from among our treasures an ironing cord, one bottle of vinegar, an old slot machine coin, three pennies, and a railroad spike we were using for a paper weight. Apparently, some earth shaking experiment is going forward, and if we complain over the raids, the young scientists make very uncomplimentary remarks about our ignorance. We can plainly see that we are entering an era about our household that has the makings of complete confusion.

Lani Deane Wilstam Receives SC Award

PORTERVILLE, June 19—Lani Deane Wilstam, a graduate of the Porterville High school, this month, has received an "honors at entrance" award from the University of Southern California.

WE THINK THE PROGRAM offering Spanish in the lower classes is muy bueno. They even have me doing it! There was a time when this country was screeching lustily about "manifest destiny". Nobody ever defined this term too clearly, but it seemed to mean that it gave a legitimate flavor to robbing the Indians and stealing land away from Mexico. During these lusty times, we were occupied with pioneering, and if we spoke English, everybody else should. The world is considerably smaller now, and it has been discovered that the language barrier among countries can be a very real problem. This can be particularly acute in the Western Hemisphere where Spanish is used by very many people to convey their thoughts as well as to write tango lyrics. We doubt if a summer school class in Spanish will completely solve the good neighbor diplomacy problems that seem to abound, but we feel sure that the more facility the youngsters acquire in other languages than English, the better will be our prospects for the future. We just re-read that last sentence

For every irrigation service—

Transite®
Irrigation Pipe
prevents water loss,
cuts pumping costs

Whatever your system, you'll find that the surest way to get low-cost, trouble-free irrigation is to install Transite Pipe.

In sprinkler irrigation, underground Transite feeder mains will assure an adequate supply of water whenever needed. Transite resists corrosion, inside and out; deposits, due to tuberculation, will not build up. As a result, rated pressures are maintained, no fuel or power is wasted by overworked pumps. Tight joints prevent water seepage.

In surface irrigation, too, for tail-water pump-back, and for supply service where water is piped to the area of application, Transite will save all-important water, reduce operating costs. Installation is simple; specially designed couplings assure tight joints and line flexibility. And their rubber ring joints stay tight... are unaffected by wetting and drying out between applications. Transite Pipe is strong and durable, resists shock and vibration.

June is the month that lets you know summer is here and gets you prepared for July and August, which usually follow. While it figures you should do most planting before this weather arrives there are still many things which can be planted. This is fortunate for us but hard on you.

There are also things which can be done to ease the strain of summer gardening. These are especially recommended if you're planning to take off a few days and leave the she-thing behind. Number one of these is plenty of garden hose which we just happen to have available. This is really pliable stuff and can be used to tie up the neighbors' kids if they steal your beer or interrupt your nap.

If you're in a money saving mood and want to patch up the hoses you now have then we can also help you. We have both the north and south ends of rubber and plastic hose plus connections for splicing the middle. These are a must for people with power mowers and much more satisfactory than band-aides or friction tape.

Along with this you need good sprinklers and a paid up water bill plus a wife that gets up early to move them around. Before you leave you'd better mulch the flower beds with peat moss, feed the camellias, and fix the leaky faucets. You can come as you are to "E" Street north of Olive.

Florida Citrus Bloom Heavy As Good Crop Seen

RIVERSIDE, June 19 — Florida citrus is far from wiped out by last season's hard winter freeze, in fact, between 70 and 80 per cent of the state's citrus plantings suffered little or no tree damage, and prospect this year is for a good crop.

Walter Reuther, horticulturist at Riverside, who recently returned from an inspection of Florida citrus freeze damage says, "These plantings have come back with a tremendous bloom and appear to have set a bumper crop."

"If this fruit sets as heavily as indications suggest, there will probably be about 75 million boxes of oranges produced in Florida next year. This is three-fourths of the normal crop."

FALLEN LEAF near Lake Tahoe — Wonderful big out door country where we have been invited to attend the Family Outdoor Education Workshop being sponsored by the department of education and other agencies. The conference is being attended by various county, district and college administrators and staff personnel in physical education, recreation and conservation education.

Objective of the workshop is conservation of human and natural resources emphasizing safety and outdoor leisure skills.

Clinics include boat handling and water safety, hunter safety, camping, hiking and angling.

We hope to squeeze in some fishing time for what has been described as "An Unappreciated California Game Fish, the Rocky Mountain Whitefish." The distribution of this fish is limited to a few streams and lakes on the eastern slope including the Truckee river, Trout creek, Fallen Leaf creek, Lake Tahoe, Donner Lake, Lower and Upper Twin lakes, Walker and Carson rivers.

The whitefish of this area is closely related to the trout and salmon but is generally mistaken for what we know as the hard head, river trout, squawfish or half a dozen other names, none complimentary. Because of this mistaken identity the fish are usually tossed out on the bank as worthless.

We have been informed that the Rocky mountain whitefish readily take a fly, nymph or other artificial lure, fight as good or better than a trout and equal if not surpass the trout as a table fish with no more bones. Whitefish do not get big, twelve inches or so being average.

This year for the first time the fish and game commission placed a special season and bag limit on this fish, it being the same as for trout. If we're lucky and all factors come up to expectation we'll bring back a story for our readers.

In the meantime we left an area where the water in streams and rivers is slowly becoming normal again with fishing for trout definitely improved. Warm water fishing for bass, bluegill, etc., has also been holding up extremely well.

Millerton lake is really producing some nice striped bass now and quite a few kokanee salmon. Report these catches to the fish and game department as the wildlife authorities want to know if their effort in stocking these species in Millerton has been worthwhile before they repeat the process.

Snap bean production is now limited to the San Diego area.
